ITEM 8.01. OTHER EVENTS.

On April 27, 2021, Pacific Biosciences of California, Inc. (the “Company”) issued a press release announcing that the Board of Directors of the Company (the “Board”) has nominated Hannah A. Valantine, M.D. to stand for election to the Board as a Class II director at the Company’s 2021 Annual Meeting. Dr. Michael Hunkapiller, currently a Class II director, is not standing for re-election, but will continue to serve as a member of the Board until the expiration of his current term ending on the date of the 2021 Annual Meeting.

Dr. Valantine currently serves as Professor of Medicine (Cardiovascular) at the Stanford University Medical Center, where she has been a faculty member since 1987. From April 2014 to September 2020, Dr. Valantine served as Chief Officer for Scientific Workforce Diversity at the National Institutes of Health, and as a Senior Investigator in the Intramural Research Program at the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute. From November 2004 to April 2014, Dr. Valantine was Professor of Cardiovascular Medicine and the Senior Associate Dean for Diversity and Leadership at Stanford. Dr. Valantine also serves as Principal and Founder of HAV LLC, a consulting company for diversity, equity and inclusion that she founded in January 2021.

There are no family relationships between Dr. Valantine and any director or executive officer of the Company, and Dr. Valantine was not nominated by the Board to serve as a director pursuant to any arrangement or understanding with any person. Dr. Valantine has not engaged in any transaction that would be reportable as a related party transaction under Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K. More information about Dr. Valantine and the 2021 Annual Meeting will be available in the Company’s proxy statement.

A copy of the press release is attached as Exhibit 99.1 hereto and incorporated by reference herein.

Important Additional Information and Where You Can Find It

The Company will furnish its proxy statement and a proxy card for its 2021 Annual Meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote at the 2021 Annual Meeting, and will file the proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). This communication is not a substitute for the proxy statement or any other document that the Company may file with the SEC or send to its stockholders. Before making any voting decision, stockholders should carefully read the proxy statement (including any supplements or amendments), and any other relevant documents that the Company may file with the SEC when they become available, because they will contain important information. Copies of the proxy statement (when it becomes available), any solicitation materials and any other documents filed by the Company with the SEC will be made available free of charge at the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov. Pacific Biosciences Nominates Dr. Hannah Valantine to its Board of Directors

MENLO PARK, Calif., April 27, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) — Pacific Biosciences of California, Inc. (Nasdaq: PACB), a leading provider of high-quality, long-read sequencing platforms, announced today that Dr. Hannah Valantine has been nominated for election to the Company's Board of Directors as a Class II director at the Company's 2021 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. Dr. Valantine is currently a Professor of Medicine (Cardiovascular) at the Stanford University Medical Center and for the past seven years she has served as the Chief Officer for Scientific Workforce Diversity overseeing NIH efforts to increase diversity in biomedical research. In 2020, she was elected to the National Academy of Medicine for both her pioneering research in organ transplantation and workforce diversity.

Dr. Michael Hunkapiller, currently a Class II director, is not standing for re-election, but will continue to serve as a member of the Board of Directors until the expiration of his current term ending on the date of the 2021 Annual Meeting. Dr. Hunkapiller will remain an advisor to the Board after the expiration of his current term.

"Dr. Valantine is a recognized pioneer in her field, and we are thrilled to have her as a nominee to join our Board," said Christian Henry, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Her expertise and leadership in critical areas of clinical expansion and workforce diversity will be positive force multipliers in our strategic approach to the clinic and to continuing to build and attract talent as we build a world-class organization. Hannah's vision, integrity and passion are fully aligned with PacBio's values."

"Great minds think differently," shared Dr. Valantine. "We need diversity of thought and perspectives to solve the major challenges in biomedicine and to achieve health equity for all. I am very excited to be nominated to join the inspiring team on the Board of Directors at PacBio."

Since 1987, Dr. Valantine has been a Professor of Medicine at the Stanford University School of Medicine. She was appointed Assistant Professor of Medicine, rising to full Professor of Medicine in 2000, and becoming the inaugural Senior Associate Dean for Diversity and Leadership, in 2004. She pursued a data-driven transformative approach to this work, receiving the NIH director's pathfinder award. Dr. Francis Collins, NIH director, recruited her in 2014 as the inaugural NIH Chief Officer for Scientific Workforce diversity, and as a tenured investigator in the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute's intramural research program where she established the laboratory of transplantation genomics. Hannah received her M.B.B.S. degree from London University, cardiology fellowship at Stanford, and Doctor of Medicine from London University.
